Woodsford announces the promotion of Robin M. Davis to Chief Investment Officer, US

The promotion means that the Quinn Emanuel and MIT alum now leads Woodsford's US underwriting and investment team for all types of litigation and arbitration.

LONDON, NEW YORK 19 January 2021, Woodsford, the global provider of litigation financing solutions for businesses, individuals and law firms, has announced the promotion of Robin M. Davis to Chief Investment Officer, US.

Robin, who joined Woodsford in October 2018 as Senior Investment Officer, was previously a partner at Radulescu LLP, a boutique patent litigation firm in New York City. Earlier in her career, Robin was an associate at Quinn Emanuel.

"We recognized Robin's potential when she joined the team just over two years ago and she has exceeded our expectations. Robin has played a key role in making Woodsford one of the leading funders of patent disputes in the US and will now drive and accelerate the continued growth of both our commercial litigation and IP-related practices across the US with her intellect and tenacity." said Steven Friel, Woodsford's CEO.

Robin M. Davis commented, "I am thrilled to be stepping into the Chief Investment Officer role for Woodsford's US business and beyond excited to shape and expand Woodsford's sizeable footprint on this side of the Atlantic. With our outstanding team, Woodsford is both smart and creative—attributes that will serve us well as we continue to expand our success in the US market and further establish Woodsford as a leader in litigation finance."
